

PhD student positions are available at the University of Innsbruck Research Institute for Textile Chemistry and Textile Physics, Dornbirn, Austria in the following areas:

- Modification of bio-based fiber surface and interfaces in composites and hybrids
- Development of textile based conductive structures and energy storage systems
- Recycling and reuse of post-consumer textile waste

Forschungsinstitut für
Textilchemie und Textilphysik

<https://www.uibk.ac.at/textilchemie/>

We are seeking candidates with a strong background and interest in chemistry, polymer chemistry or materials chemistry.

The offer is for full time positions at a monthly gross salary of € 2 980.00 (approximate figure). Please apply with curriculum vitae, academic transcripts, statement on your motivation, and names and contact information of two referees, to:

Prof. Tung Pham (tung.pham@uibk.ac.at)
Research Institute of Textile Chemistry / Physics
University of Innsbruck
Hochsterstrasse 73
6850 Dornbirn
Austria

The University of Innsbruck emphasizes equal opportunities and diversity in its personnel policy. We strive to increase the percentage of women and thus expressly encourage women to apply. In case of under-representation, women with the same qualifications will be given priority.